Reported Invading Nationalist-Held Port Of Swatow And Amoy Island

REPORT BATTLE OCCURS AT AMOY

By J. I. MACKENZIE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HONG KONG, Oct. 17.—Chinese Communist troops were reported today to have invaded the Nationalist-held port of Swatow while other Red forces pushed forward in their conquest of Amoy Island.

The two southeast coast ports are the last held by the Nationalist government. Amoy is regarded as a good springboard for an attack on the Nationalist base of Formosa.

Amoy lies 140 miles west of Formosa where Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for months has been building up troops, planes and material for a desperate last stand.

The Communists advancing on the island reportedly were the survivors of three groups which set out in wooden boats for amphibious assaults on Amoy and nearby Kulangsu Island.

PA NEWS OBSERVES

Mrs. Martha Walsh of Pulaski reported to Pa News that she picked a bouquet of violets in her back yard on Saturday afternoon.

According to reports heard by Pa News from some sources, there was a spectacular display of Northern Lights visible in this area early Saturday evening.

One of the unusual features of the present extended spell of summer-like weather is the large number of flower beds that are to be seen which are still displaying a large number of beautiful blooms. Usually by this period of the fall, frosts have ended all blooming flowers.

Flaming colors of the woodlands have largely been succeeded by a generally drab brown appearance, in this area of the state, Pa News is told. For a couple of weeks flaming reds were most noticeable in the woodlands, but a subdued brownish appearance is the general appearance at the present time.

Many visitors were in New Wilmington over the weekend end viewing the various decoration plans at the various houses for the homecoming week. There were some elaborate displays. One house presented an old time castle and drawbridge scene; another the old woman that lived in the shoe; another had a plover in the west with the covered wagon, etc., another depicted the "Hatfield-McCoy feuding tradition; another had a facsimile of a dirigible to mention some of those to be seen.

Work of "deslicking" East Washington street between Court street and Oak street, has temporarily been delayed until the arrival in the city of larger equipment. Alfred Martin, county highway superintendent, reports. A power driven spray machine which is expected momentarily, will facilitate the placing of the materials on the street surface.

Snow fence of the state highway department is dotting the farms of Lawrence county. The fence is being placed in locations where the wind blows profusely and would lift much snow on the highways if the spots were unprotected. No new fence is being placed this year because the same fence used last year is being erected.

Fourteen Thousand Aluminum Plant Workers On Strike

Aluminum Corporation Workers Join Strikes When Negotiations Fail

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Fourteen thousand workers in the nine plants of the Aluminum Corporation of America went out on strike today when last-minute government efforts to settle the dispute failed.

The strikers are members of the CIO United Steel Workers Union. The dispute centered around the issue of whether employees should contribute to pension and social insurance plans, the controversy which led to a strike of more than a half million steel workers in basic steel.

Plants Affected
The Alcoa plants affected by the strike are at New Kensington, Pa., Alcoa, Tenn., Badin, N.C., Bauxite, Ark., Bridgeport, Conn., Detroit, Mich., Alcoa, Edgewater, N.J., and Richmond, Ind.

First Report In Chest Drive Made At Noon

Report Shows $20,677 Pledged For Support Of Chest Agencies

DRIVE CONTINUES THROUGH MONTH

New Castle Community Chest workers reported a total of $20,677 pledged in the first report meeting of the 1949-50 campaign, at a meeting in The Castleton at noon today.

The total reported represents 15 percent of the goal of $127,350 being solicited for 13 welfare agencies in the community this year.

The first meeting of the 1948-49 campaign reported a total of $34,000. However this figure also included contributions secured in an advanced gifts division that had been working even before the kickoff.

Chairman J. Lepere Matthews presided at today's meeting with 35 division leaders, team captains, and workers present. Rev. Ralph E. Hovencamp, campaign co-chairman called on the division captains for individual reports and brief remarks. Several divisions including rural and public offices did not have representatives present.

Stress Points

Rev. Hovencamp and Matthews stressed important points for all of the chest workers to keep in mind. One is that the fear psychology must be overcome. Despite the fact that nationwide economic conditions are bad, everyone must be contacted. A pledge secured now may be paid when working conditions return to normal.

Rev. Hovencamp also told of the importance of putting this drive over the top. He said that everyone may not agree with the function of a particular agency or its method of operation. However, all 13 are designed to benefit the community. Workers and prospective contributors are urged to remember that the budget of each agency was carefully scrutinized and he who does not give because of a dislike of one agency is depriving the other 12 of their opportunity to continue serving the needs of New Castle and the community.

The next report meeting will be Friday at 12:10 in The Castleton.

Steel And Coal Strike Rolls Now Number 900,000

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Philip Murray's proposal for an AFL-CIO-Mine Workers' war chest today underscored the possibility of long and costly strikes in the coal and steel industries.

Murray's call for a united labor effort to finance all of labor's strike battles came as the 17-day-old steel walkout spread to nine aluminum plants employing 14,000 workers.

Strike Rolls At 900,000
The strike rolls in the two major walkouts now stands at 900,000 men. Commerce Secretary Sawyer predicts that the spreading effects of the coal and steel shutdowns will swell unemployment to eight and one-half million workers if the strike continues for 45 days.

Federal Mediation Director Cyrus Ching is expected to arrange new conferences in the 17-day-old steel strike.

Government labor experts believe the deadlock between the industry and the CIO steelworkers over pensions must be broken this week or the walkout may last well into November.

Gen. Cates Asks That Congress Halt Program

Says Attempts Being Made To Wipe Out Marine Corps As Fighting Force

CITES ATTEMPT TO REDUCE MARINES (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Marine Corps commandant, charged today that a "top secret" plan approved by the defense department would destroy the leathernecks as a fighting force.

Cates told Congress that the Army, abetted by defense officials, is attempting to reduce the Marine Corps to a mere policing role in any future conflict.

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Marine Corps commandant, charged today that the Army abetted by the defense department is trying to wipe out the Marine Corps as a fighting force.

Cates, an oft-decorated veteran of the Pacific war, appealed to Congress over the head of Defense Secretary Johnson to prevent "persistent attempts to circumvent the law."

The four-star General said flatly that the will of Congress and the law of the land is being disregarded by the defense department, the Army, and the Air Force. He said their actions endangered the Marine Corps' continued existence.

Cates told the House Armed Services committee that the Marine Corps will abide by any decision of Congress. He declared: "We will abide loyally by any verdict of the National Legislature. Beyond this the Marine Corps asks nothing for itself. It has no ambition beyond the performance of its duty to its country...its only desire now is to be protected in its right to fight again in the wars of the United States."

Accusations Made
The Marine Corps chief accused the Army "General Staff" of embezzling, with the defense department's support on a three-point program to emasculate the Marine Corps.

Cates said the Army's "demands" were:

As long as this weather keeps balmy, as long as the sun stays around, it looks and it feels like the summer, for summer is still sticking around. So why not get out the old basket and load it with pickles and tea, and salad and pie and some sandwiches too, that kind of a sport is for me. We'll drive to a spot near the water, and lunch while the autumn makes hay, for picnics are good when the weather is right, and it's 66 today.

Union And Steel Officials Silent On Strike Status

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—(INS)—

Steel and union officials in Pittsburgh today had nothing to say about the nation-wide strike. Its chances of settlement in the near future of the possibilities of government intervention.

The two parties apparently were waiting for someone else to take the first step toward resolving the dispute over who should pay for a 10-cent-an-hour welfare program, the argument which caused the strike 17 days ago.

Both United States Steel and CIO-United Steelworkers offices in Pittsburgh said no word has been received from federal mediation and conciliation director Cyrus Ching regarding conferences designed to bring about resumption of negotiations.

CIO-USW President Philip Murray will go to Gary, Ind., tomorrow for the fourth of his talks to striking steelworkers.

AUTO MECHANIC GIVES HIS LIFE TO SAVE OTHERS

The 71st lap of the race was dropped its catch-tank, used to catch dripping oil.

Neves knew that if one of the speeding cars hit the tank a pile-up and perhaps flaming death for some of the drivers would result. With only split seconds to spare he ran out on the track.

Driver George Pacheco's car struck and hurled him against a wire safety netting in front of the grandstand. He bounced back onto the track where another car driven by Jerry Till hit him.

Officials stopped the race but by the time a track doctor reached him Neves was dead.

Bomber Crashes; Four Are Killed

CHINO, Cal., Oct. 17.—(INS)—An air force BA-26 bomber crashed late yesterday in the remote hills southwest of Chino, killing at least four men.

March air base officials said the huge bomber is believed to be one which refueled at Williams airport base at Phoenix, Ariz., yesterday, enroute from Sheppard Field, Tex., to Long Beach, Calif., with five men aboard.

It was scheduled to have arrived at Long Beach at 5:15 p. m. Search for the plane was started when it was long overdue and unreported.

The wreckage was sighted on high ground shortly after 9 p. m. about five miles south of Chino by a maintenance man for the Edison Co., who was investigating a power blackout in the Chino area.

limited in size to the regiment and the Corps itself reduced to 50,000 to 60,000 men."

"That it be recognized that amphibious warfare is an Army function."

"That the Marine Corps not be appreciably expanded in time of war."

Cates said that "despite the provisions of the law" the Army General Staff "stands within measurable distance of achieving each one" of its three objectives "against" the Marine Corps.

He advised the committee that he had been informed in effect that the Marine Corps "is not entitled to separate recognition even in matters of vital and particular concern because it is not a service." Cates declared angrily.

Effort To Destroy

"The Marine Corps is a service. Congress made it a service in 1798, and has consistently recognized it as such."

Cates, who led the Marines in the initial landing on Guadalcanal, charged that the "power of the budget, the power of coordination, and the power of strategic direction of armed forces" are being used "to destroy the operating forces of the Marine Corps."

Aiming his fire directly at the Pentagon, the Marine General declared:

"We are being told in detail... by the department of defense where and how those cuts are to be made—by striking into the heart of our combat forces, by specifically reducing—over my strongest objections—the number of battalions in the Fleet Marine Corps, by specifically reducing the number of our close support air squadrons to a figure far below what I would regard as the barest and minimum requisite for our mission."

Cates declared that "this is a severe and telling blow," a blow "which can destroy" the Marine Corps as an effective fighting force.

The house hearings resume today amidst reports that the effectiveness of radar has caused new doubts to arise as to the B-36's bombing capabilities.

The assaulting force on Kulangsu Island reportedly never got ashore, their small craft being blasted out of the water by the Nationalist shore guns.

In the preliminary four-hour duel between Nationalist shore batteries on Amoy and Communist artillery on the mainland, the British steamer Anhui was hit.

On arrival at Hong Kong, the Anhui's master said three Chinese were killed and 22 wounded. The ship was believed fired by the Communists. In all, 20 shells fell about the ship.

Newspapers continued publication, except for the Nationalist Central Daily News. Shops were open and the population was permitted to move freely except during curfew hours. Government offices continued to function but under Communist direction.

Report Raids Being Made Across Border Into Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(INS)—The Kremlin's little cold war with Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito, the backsliding communist, is reported today to have developed into guerrilla raids across the Hungarian border.

Official sources in Washington said they had heard that Hungarian communists were conducting raids into Yugoslavia. The state department, however, refused comment.

The Washington officials said that the raids are reported to be designed temporarily to harass Tito's government. It was understood that the raiders confined themselves to acts of sabotage and the occasional kidnapping of Yugoslav soldiers to gather information about Tito's forces.

Woman Is Fatally Injured In Ride On 'Rocket Ship'

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 17.—(INS)—Muskogee County Coroner E. L. Howell was expected to rule today in the death of a Columbus housewife who was fatally injured after her husband coaxed her onto a carnival "rocket ship".

Howell said the woman, Mrs. Robert McDonald, apparently died as a result of a hemorrhage suffered in a fall at the annual Chattahoochee Valley Exposition Saturday night. His ruling was expected to be made after an inquest.

Mrs. McDonald's husband told officials his wife refused to go on the tilted-track ride until he made the trip first.

FORMAL CHARM MARKS BOLLARD-MOORE RITE

White ceremonial tapers in seven branch candelabra, the fragrance of white carnations, gladioli, and chrysanthemums arranged in a large vase, and an em-bankment of Schefflera palms and clobium ferns provided the altar setting when Miss Marcia Anne Bollard and Dr. Charles Core Moore, Jr., pledged their vows by candlelight Saturday evening, October 15.

The single ring ceremony was solemnized in the First Methodist church with Rev. J. A. Gaiser, pastor of the church, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Norton Bollard, 409 Reis street, New Castle. Dr. Moore is the son of Dr. Charles Moore Sr., East Liberty.

Lustrous slipper satin accentuated the delicate charm of the young bride as she was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, David N. Bollard. The bride costume was fashioned with a square neckline outlined with Chantilly lace, long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists and molded bodice. The billow skirt featured a lace peplum and ended in a flowing court train. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a hand made lace handkerchief, a gift of the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Klein. Traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue was also carried. Her cascade bouquet was composed of white gardenias centered with a white orchid.

Gracing the bridal procession was maid of honor Miss Martha Belle Moore, sister of the groom, East Liberty, and bridesmaids Misses Jean Wilson, Zelenople, Mary Butz, Anne Glenn, Janet Everett and Elaine Bollard, the latter two cousins of the bride. They were attired identically in gowns of emerald green satin with matching train halos and clipped sleeves.

The wedding breakfast, with matching jackets, exaggerated bustle effect in the back of the bouffant skirts and basque bodices. A cascade bouquet of bronze and yellow pompons composed the honor maid's flowers. Bridesmaids carried a cascade bouquet of pink pompons and roses. Little Miss Ann Wish, cousin of the bride, was the dainty flower girl in white nylon marquisette with matching bonnet trimmed with orange blossoms. She had a colonial bouquet of roses and mixed pompons.

Attending the groom as best man was his father, Dr. Charles C. Moore Sr. Ushers were Thomas M. Elliott, Jr., MacDonald, Pa., and Dr. Lyndon H. Landon, Jr., Dr. James F. Jackson, Dr. Daniel M. Wilkins, and Dr. Alexander Mingo, all of Pittsburgh.

Nuptial music was presented by organist Mrs. Edwin Wilson, of Zelenople and soloist Miss Esther Edmundson, also of Zelenople who sang "I Love Thee," "Because," "At Dawning," "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Following the congratulatory period by the large number of guests at the church, a wedding reception was held at the New Castle Country club for approximately 250 guests. The club was attractively decorated for the occasion in the autumn motif, fall flowers and autumn leaves giving a colorful effect. Pouring at the reception were Mrs. Fred Casburn and Mrs. John J. Fishburn. Aides were Miss Norma Evans and Miss Lois Straub of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. James Cummings, and Mrs. Eugene Newberry of New Castle.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles C. Moore Jr., will spend their wedding trip in Florida and Sea Island, Georgia. They will reside at 4504 Butler street, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Moore, Jr., is a graduate of the New Castle high school and the West Penn Hospital of Nursing, Pittsburgh. Dr. Moore is a graduate of the Peabody high school and the University of Pittsburgh Medical School. He is a resident surgeon at West Penn Hospital.

PEACE OR WAR?

The question now uppermost among men and nations is whether the world is facing peace or war. It is being argued and analyzed in all quarters, with no decision. There are few salient facts upon which to base an opinion.

The more optimistic say Russia has no thought of conflict, being only concerned over its own national safety. Others see in every Moscow move preparation for a gigantic war by which the Soviet government hopes to impose its communist will upon the entire world—including, of course, the United States.

In considering possibilities of another war such matters as relative atomic strength are extraneous to the subject. Military preparedness has little to do with it. Whatever may be provided in good time if war is to be the outcome.

Whether it is to be peace or war will depend entirely upon the will of a handful of men who control the destiny of Russia. The fate of the world, at least for the next few years, may depend upon decisions made by their warped brains.

There is no question that the Russians are playing for keeps. In spite of their protestations of peaceful intentions, it is their purpose to impose the will of the Soviet Union upon the world in general. The controversy with Tito could be the spark to set off a holocaust. Russia will not permit Tito long to continue resistance.

CIVIL RIGHTS AND 1950 CAMPAIGNS

Sources close to the White House say that President Truman welcomes the opportunity to postpone the sian-bang battle for civil rights legislation until the next session of Congress.

Mr. Truman, they declare, wants to make civil rights what he believes will be a dramatic, vote-getting issue in the 1950 congressional campaigns.

The President has known for about two months that there was no chance of getting any sort of civil rights measure passed by the Senate during the current session. However, he would not have hesitated to direct Senate Democratic leader Scott Lucas, Illinois, to carry on the fight until just before Christmas, if necessary, had the President deemed it politically expedient.

Now, the controversy appears to the President to be made-to-order for next year's congressional battles—with the Democrats seeking to retain control of both houses and the Republicans challenging desperately to defeat the "ins."

If the Senate blocks civil rights at the next session, the chief executive can go to the country and blame the Republicans for teaming up with the southern Democratic bloc in the Senate.

This he expects to do. In the south, the southerners are safe enough, for the anti-civil rights sentiments of the Dixie voters are behind them. In the north, Mr. Truman figures he will have an issue strong enough to lead to the defeat of many Republican candidates.

CHINESE NATIONALIST TACTICS

The seizure of three American merchantmen recently by the Chinese Nationalist navy is expected to be followed by tough diplomatic representations. Officials are generally silent on the problem, due to the pro-Nationalist China sentiment at the Capitol. When Congress quits, a more aggressive policy will be shown. Officials are irked primarily because the Nationalists have refused to use their navy and air force, all obtained on lend-lease and military aid from the United States, to fight the Communists.

Chiang Kai-shek had promised too bring these forces to bear when the Communists crossed the Yangtze river in their drive on Shanghai. Instead, they were noticeable by their absence. Now these naval vessels have been used against American ships.

It is feared momentarily that one of the Nationalist bombers may attack an American vessel. The United States is not especially eager to help the Chinese Communists in Shanghai. They do resent the Nationalists imposing hardship on the Chinese people, who may put the blame on the United States.

One official argues that the Nationalists are creating more Communists than they are curing by their bombing of rail, ship and dock facilities in Shanghai. These are more serious than generally realized.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Something new in political experiments is being tried today in France, birthplace of countless innovations in the field of government.

Julius Moch, Socialist party standard-bearer who was approved as premier by a single proxy vote in the national assembly, has presented himself as the nation's new leader in a somewhat paradoxical fashion.

He is a bitter foe of communism and of dictatorship.

He has promised the nation a government of "strong and resolute men" on the ground that the French people "want to be governed," a rather strange phrase to characterize a race that has been credited with building the modern world's first cradle of liberty.

The seemingly dictatorial tinge inherent in Moch's first statement of policy is tempered to some degree by the knowledge that Moch must select a middle-of-the-road coalition cabinet which will maintain the policies of its predecessors.

Drastic Orders

But Moch already has shown ability to utilize strong measures. This was chiefly apparent during the communist-led wave of strikes which all but crippled France industrially in 1947. His drastic orders to heavily-armed police during that crisis were of the sort that had caused French revolutions in the past.

But he got away with it. Despite his narrow margin of victory in the assembly, Moch has two attributes which enhance his stature in the eyes of the French people. One is his staunch anti-communism and his bitter opposition to the conform theory that French workmen should pay allegiance to Moscow.

The other is the fact that he is a fighting man, with an impeccable record in both world wars and throughout the occupation.

Served In First War

Now 56 years old, Moch served in an engineers' battalion throughout the first war. He was awarded the croix de guerre with four palms—the maximum that this coveted medal can carry.

In 1939, when Adolf Hitler attacked Poland, Moch enlisted in the French navy and ultimately was commissioned as a captain after participating in the costly allied landings at the mouth of Narvik in northern Norway.

In 1940, he voted against Marshal Petain and as a result was arrested and imprisoned at Pelle-

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FIRST STEPS IN READING TO A CHILD

Please let me tell you a good way of beginning to read to the baby. Soon after the infant's birth often speak very gently and tenderly to him as you care for him. In his very early months sing lullabies to him and repeat words of rhythm and nursery rhymes, the same ones over and over again. After he is about a year of age try some finger plays on him. Keep trying him with such from time to time but be careful that he is not over-excited by them once he begins to enjoy them.

As soon as he begins to look at pictures talk to him about them and answer his question (which at first may be only grunts or gestures). Don't press him to look and listen. Let him be wholly free. Remove the picture pages as soon as his interest lags. Try him later. Do so again and again.

In a Magazine

Some of the pictures he first is attracted to may be in a magazine he likes to leaf through. Also expose him to a lovely book which has illustrated nursery rhymes or a sentence or two in prose under each picture. As you talk to him then about the pictures you will be reading to him before he knows it. He will gradually connect what you read with the related picture. Sometimes you will read only a very small portion connected with each picture but you will try to get him to wait a bit before you turn the page or let him do so.

If he insists on looking rapidly through the book without pausing to hear you read, or lags in interest, close the book and put it away. As it is a lovely book you won't leave it with him for some weeks or months. Gradually he will grow fonder of each picture, look at it longer and therefore listen longer. (My bulletin, "Books from Which to Read to the Baby and Young Child," may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y. This bulletin gives seventeen reasons for reading early to the baby and reading stories to him rather than telling them.)

When you begin to read to the baby from an illustrated story which is much longer than a nursery rhyme he might lose interest before you have read more than a few sentences. I tested this matter with one of my grandchildren when he was 13 months of age, using "Henny Penny." He sat beside me as I read and he looked at the first picture. At the end of the third sentence he slid down and went to his toys. I made no comment but put the book away. Next evening I began to read from the same story. He did not leave until I had read nearly all of the first page, about seven sentences. I always started at the beginning. As he grew more familiar with the picture and the first sentences they waxed more interesting to him. On the fourth evening he listened rapidly to the end of the story. On successive evenings he begged me to read the whole story. It was not many weeks before he was listening avidly to a number of stories, though he chose the most familiar ones over and over again. Then it was not a problem for us to get him to listen to a story but for him to find a person often enough to read to him. More on this tomorrow.

voison. After his release he founded one of the strongest and most fanatic of all French anti-Nazi resistance groups known as "1793."

This was the organization that Nazi occupation commander Gen. Otto von Stuepnagel ordered broken up at all costs.

It had perfected the art of warring German soldiers and officers in the streets, stabbing them to death and disappearing into the shadows of the Paris night.

Made Way To England

Moch later made his way to England where he joined what then were known as the Fighting French forces and served with the consultative assembly at Algiers, where he played an important part in paying the war for allied invasion of North Africa.

There are few observers in Paris or elsewhere who care to predict how successful Moch will be in forming a workable government and remaining in office.

Communist opposition to his program of wage bonuses and price stability will be savage. But it has been driven home to the French people and to the national assembly that French prestige abroad—and the nation's economy depends—is linked closely to the tranquility that can be maintained at home.

It was for this reason that former French Premier Henri Queuille stepped out of office before the national assembly had a chance to vote non-confidence in his government and possibly thus create a more serious crisis in which the conservative or "third force" element could not remain in power.

The general belief is that if Moch or any potential successor can stave off a serious political rebellion until the end of the year, France will have solidified her recovery and balanced her books to as great an extent as any nation does these days.

But the situation is still clouded. And Moch, who obviously likes a fight, knows full well that he has a real one on his hands.

Folks Of Fame

A little man who lied to wear a military uniform because it hid the defects of his unkindly figure, ruled over a European nation for 45 years. He was King Victor Emmanuel III of Italy, born November 11, 1867 and ascended the throne in 1900, after his father was assassinated. He married a Balkan princess. He surrendered his rule—but not his crown—to a self-appointed dictator after World War I. After the latter's fall, in World War II, his abdication was demanded by his subjects. He retired with his family to Egypt, where he died December 28, 1947.

This great French painter of peasants, Jean Francois Millet, was born October 4, 1814. As a boy he worked in the fields. A set of engravings in an old illustrated Bible set him drawing. Two of these drawings gained him acceptance as a pupil of a painter. His work at first attracted but little notice, and it took years of poverty and hard work before his genius was recognized. Many of his pictures depicted peasant life and his sympathy with the lot of the poor. Two of his most famous pictures are "The Angelus" and "The Man with the Hoe." He died January 20, 1875.

SELF DEFENSE

It seems to be the duty of every man to protect himself from harm. Sometimes men band together for mutual protection. They may unite as a tribe, a city, a state, a nation or a group of nations.

No matter how large the group, each man must help the good work along.

Tuberculosis threatens people all over the world. States and nations fight it. After all the individual must try to protect himself.

The germs are passed from the sick person to the persons near by.

Proper care of the sick is most important.

Persons who have tuberculosis should be protected so that other people will not be exposed to the disease.

Navy-Air Force Battle

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

LONDON, Oct. 17.—I'd like to sound like Will Rogers—as what the communist would—and say that all I know about the fight between the Navy and the Air Force is what I read in the papers.

The London papers, at that. Maybe the London papers don't have it right about the wrangle that is waging in Washington, but if they do it is this faraway observer's opinion that the men involved should be asked to turn in the brass on their caps and the brass of their voices, especially the latter.

Leave it up to them and the next war is not going to be between the East and the West, or the democracies against the totalitarian states, but between two armed services of the United States. Every time I pick up a paper I am prepared to read that, without warning, the United States Navy has launched an attack on the United States Air Force, or vice versa.

Whom do these officers and legislators think they represent? Themselves and their opinions. Jobs, prestige, fancy offices and chances of promotion, or the United States of America?

Whose safety is first in their minds? Their own, or that of the country in which they live? Even a mind as adolescent as my own revolts at the juvenile behavior that must be going on now in Washington. How can men in whose hands has been placed the trust of safeguarding our country challenge a B-36 to fight a Banshee, with the results told to all?

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan
(By International News Service)

Prospects of a new Hemingway novel written as the result of a shooting accident are exciting. He is believed to be the first author to be shot before publication.

No information about the plot has been made available and none has leaked so obviously it doesn't concern the Navy.

Incidentally the Department of Defense is sponsoring an all-service television program starting Oct. 30. Look for it in the television listings under "Fights from Washington."

I don't say the fight fever is spreading but it is significant that not many of us plain citizens ever heard of Lord Boyd Orr who won this year's Nobel peace prize.

But anybody can tell you that even Shirley Temple has grown up enough to quarrel.

All I know is that Reno and Las Vegas have been pulling steadily ahead of Niagara Falls and neither of them has a waterfall.

the world? Or make headlines and six-column picture layouts by taking our top strategists for a look at how a carrier operates? Sounds like something W. C. Fields would have kicked Baby Leroy for thinking up.

This happens to be a critical time for our country and for all the world. If we can believe the thinkers, civilization is teetering on a precipice like a Mack Sennett cop.

And, from all reports, we have in charge men who can't make up their minds as what is good, what is bad, what is best, and what is well, practically anything you want to name.

Should Be Removed

Then common sense demands but one thing—that men, such as these be removed and men out who can come to some common agreement on what is the best for this country. If the present ones can't sit in a conference room and without regard for rank, branch of service, etc., etc. figure out the score, then out they must go and in must come a new batch.

Certainly a new batch couldn't do any worse. All they would have to do to prove themselves the equal of the present batch would be to fight and argue and get nowhere.

If an admiral were on the level for his country he would let an ensign run the ship, if he knew the ensign could do it better. The same goes for the top-ranking officers of all the branches of service.

Men Come Up in Time of Need

This country has always come up with magnificent men in time of need. They come up from nowhere, unknown, but they come up and they meet the test. It seems to me now is the time for President Truman to tell the men fighting the battle of Washington either to get on the ball or to head for the showers, and then wave from the White House toward the bull pen.

I know this sounds presumptuous, coming from a nobody like me. But, after all, I am a citizen. I do have a family. I do have a home, and I do love my country. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The desk clerk at a hotel in Hartford received a guest's appeal from a guest on the fourth floor. He rushed up, and found the guest wrapped in a Turkish towel, complaining, "Fine soap you have in this place! I've been rubbing and rubbing and I can't get any lather. Let's see that soap, demanded the clerk. The guest opened his hand and said, 'Here it is.' 'But, my dear man,' the clerk exploded, 'That's not a piece of soap. That's your gold watch.'"

The guest scratched his head in perplexity. "So it is," he admitted. "But wouldn't you think a watch would produce a little lather?"

Bob Hope's elation when he heard that a new army jeep plane had exceeded the speed of sound was tinged with self-interest. "Now," he exulted, "I'll be able to tell a joke in Hollywood over the radio, realize it has laid an egg, and send one of those planes out to shoot it down over Chicago."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

TODAY
Dawn and the day begins!
All with some task to do.
Slowly the small hand spins.
Marking the hours away.
Six, seven and eight are gone;
Nine, ten, eleven, too soon!
Now the two hands are one:
Noon, and then afternoon.

Work for the night is near.
So runs the ancient song.
Day, week, a month, a year.
Youth thinks them long.
But when the hair is gray,
Time and strength flown,
"We'd have done more," they say,
"Had we but known."

Wait not tomorrow's sun.
Time swiftly flies.
Do all that can be done
Ere the day dies.
Kind deed or praise to say:
Don't let them wait.
Even tomorrow may
Be just too late.

Fouling Up N. Y. Election

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—John Foster Dulles and Herbert H. Lehman, a pair of reputable gentlemen, are campaigning for the Senate in the State of New York, but much of the quarterbacking takes place here in Washington.

This is inevitable because the New York election next month is a test case for things to come in 1950 and '52. Also, it is regrettable because some of this quarterbacking from Washington, where the game is played for keeps, is dirty football.

The Democrats here, for instance, are readying a really scummy trick play which they intend to pull if Republican Dulles' chances still look good by the middle of October. The play calls for a coup of Administration foreign policy experts to take to the radio and say that Dulles' election would hurt American prestige in Europe.

How They'll Work It

If this sounds too far-fetched even for political propaganda, wait and hear how the Democratic brain-trusters intend to work it out. Dulles, a Wall Street lawyer but a long-time champion of bi-partisan foreign policy, has always supported the Marshall Plan. But the radio script will say that his election would give evidence to the Communist charge that the Marshall Plan is a Wall Street imperialist plot. This reasoning, of course, doesn't make sense. But it is expected to make political hay among New York City's foreign-extracted voters who, naturally, don't want Wall Street to gobble up their mother countries. It is also expected to make hay in rural New York State where the lechard Cranes can be scared with the rumor that a vote for Dulles is an assist for the Communies.

Aiming Blow At Lehman

The Republicans, for their part, are supposed to be aiming a foul blow at Democrat Lehman. Since Lehman is Jewish and so is former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, the scheme is to resurrect discussion of the absurd Morgenthau Plan. This plan, it will be remembered, was slipped into President Roosevelt's pocket just before the Quebec Conference, and it called for reducing Germany to a pastoral state by destroying all her industry. Discussion of the Morgenthau Plan, of course, has nothing to do with the New York election, but it is said to have an anti-Lehman effect upon the thousands of New Yorkers who never liked Morgenthau anyhow.

Actually, it is hard to imagine that this sort of dirty football ever wins any games. But politicians seem to think that it does, and almost every important election brings it out. And while the tricks themselves may prove nothing, the fact that they may be tried seems to prove at least two things.

Lay Issues On Line

One is that party strategists don't believe voters have grasped the real issue of this campaign. That, if true, would be a pity. Both candidates have taken a lot of trouble to lay the issue that on the line. Candidate Dulles, who has hitherto stuck to foreign affairs, is campaigning for the avowed purpose of opposing Mr. Truman's domestic Fair Deal. Dulles has repeatedly pitched his speeches to this keynote, warning his listeners that we are falling down the road to statism.

Candidate Lehman, although a much slicker type of office-seeker, has met the challenge head-on. There is reason to doubt that he really believes in the extravagances of the Fair Deal, but at least he has endorsed just about everything that Dulles has condemned. There could not be a campaign where the conflicting viewpoints are more clearly defined.

Expect Close Finish

And the threatened use of dirty football appears to prove something else—that party strategists expect a close finish between these two candidates. Otherwise there would be no use for shoddy tactics on both sides. A clean win for Lehman would show the Democrats that their triumph in 1948 was no fluke. A clean win for Dulles would show Republicans that their party can win with out-spoken candidates.

But low tricks, especially if they don't decide anything, are apt to leave a muddy taste in the mouths of all concerned. The victors will wish that they hadn't played foul, since it was unnecessary. While the vanquished will wish they hadn't, since it was unavailing. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Like most people you are probably too busy with making a living or with your household duties to do much reading besides your daily paper.

But there are times when you want to spend an hour or so with a good book.

You may hesitate to start a novel, because a novel is usually too long to read between chores, and you may not have time to finish it until goodness knows when.

So let me make a suggestion. There is no better book to read for a half hour or an hour's relaxation than the Bible.

I do it often not as a matter of religion, but for its sheer beauty, and as a most wonderful tonic.

Of all the literature in this world nothing more beautiful than the Bible has ever been written.

No matter where you open it, you will find something to satisfy you, to inspire you, to put your mind at ease.

Early last evening I was tired. I didn't feel like reading anything heavy, listening to the radio, looking at television. I didn't even want to talk.

So I took my Bible, lay down on a couch, and opened it at random.

My wife was in the next room, doing some sewing, and before I opened the book I was thinking how wonderful life is when you have a companion whose nearness, by her nearness, gives you happiness and peace.

Then I looked at the page to which I had opened the Book. It happened to be the fourth chapter of Ecclesiastes, and this is what I read, as I started on the ninth verse:

"Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour."

"For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but woe to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up."

I went back a couple of pages to the thirty-first chapter of Proverbs.

Something again stopped me, just as my wife came into the room to ask me how soon I would be ready for dinner:

"She will do him good and no evil all the days of her life. . . . Strength and honour are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come."

"She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness."

"She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness."

"Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her."

"I am ready for dinner now, dear," I said as I closed the book.

"A meeting of the Alumni Cabinet will be convened in the near future," he said, "to develop further this program."

CORRESPONDENCE COURSE IN FLOWER ARRANGEMENT

One of the newest additions to correspondence courses being offered by the Pennsylvania State College is on flower arrangement. One of the six lessons in the course is on winter bouquets—what to use and how to arrange materials attractively.

Correspondence courses at the Pennsylvania State College are free and may be obtained by writing to J. E. McCord, director, correspondence courses in Agricultural and Home Economics, Agricultural Education Building, State College, Pa.

A circular on Flower Arrangement may be secured by contacting the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle. Another circular, Amateur Flower Shows, is also available upon request.

ADVISES USING SECOND FLOOR HALL SPACE

One space too often overlooked in houses today is the second floor hall. Where the stairway starts from the front door and extends straight up, there are unlimited possibilities for using this space. The upper hall often has a window and the space may be made into a cozy nook for reading, writing, sewing, or a hobby. Use the space for a catchall. A younger member of the family may wish to do the hall space for a school project.

Try to make the hall as attractive and convenient as other parts of the house. If space permits, a bookcase may be painted to match the woodwork. There should be a desk, waste-basket, and a comfortable chair for reading or desk work. There must be adequate light in this center.

ALWAYS BE CONSCIOUS OF YOUR POSTURE

No woman can afford to neglect her posture. She needs good posture and proper balance to maintain her good health and good looks. If your posture is not so good as you think it should be, check it, then start to improve it. Sit on a chair straight back and push the bottom of your spine as far back on the seat as possible. Next, dig your spine at the waistline into the back of the chair and hold it there while you pull in your tummy. To check your standing posture, stand four inches away from a wall with your feet four inches apart. Lean against the wall, digging your waistline into the wall and lifting your chest. Try to keep this position as you walk away from the wall.

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

Meet MISS RITA TENNANT, Seattle secretary, who recently made the 30-Day Test of Camel MILDNESS under the observation of a noted throat specialist.

ALTHOUGH SHE'S SMOKED many brands, Rita changes to Camels for her 30-Day Test. Like the other smokers in the nationwide test, her throat is examined every week by a specialist.

AH! SATURDAY—OFFICE CLOSED! Off to the tennis courts for Rita! She calls time-out for a Camel and confides: "I am really delighted to be making the test. Every Camel tastes so good!"

30TH DAY... FINAL EXAMINATION! Her doctor reports NO SIGN OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS! Rita remarks: "And smoking is really fun with Camels!"

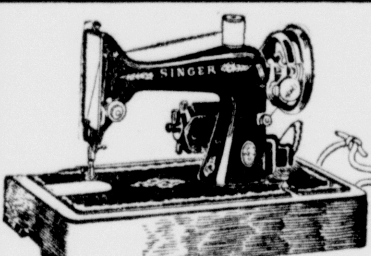

IT'S FUN! Smoke Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days. Compare them in your "T-Zone" (T for taste, T for throat). Let your throat tell you about Camel's cool mildness. Let your taste tell you about Camel's wonderful flavor.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Autumn Leaves

Throughout the United States these days, leaves are being raked into colorful piles and matches applied. The smoke curls lazily upward or whips briskly along in front of autumn breezes. And what fun it is for the children if the grown-ups are cooperative!

Can you remember the days when as a child you scuffed through piled-up leaves? Do you recall the thrill of rolling over and over in a particularly inviting pile? Children, today, enjoy the same kinds of simple experiences.

It's fun, too, to be permitted to lead a hand. The ordinary child is willing to help pile up the leaves for burning, especially if he can light them and keep the fire going with new armfuls. In suburb and small town, leaf-burning time is joy work and play together.

Of course, the rapid gardener will shudder at the idea of burning leaves when they should be added to the mulch pile. But not all gardeners. The pungent odor of the burning leaves, the satisfaction that comes from tidying up and the glow that's a part of the good physical exercise are real values, too.

CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Agnes Guy was a pleasing hostess to the members of the What Nite club Friday night at her home.

Five hundred was the diversion, with the high score awards going to Mrs. Robert Grinnen and Mrs. Raymond Leight. Mrs. I. V. Holmes captured the travel token and Mrs. George Jones received the door prize.

At the conclusion of the games the hostess, aided by Mrs. L. E. Yoho, served a delicious lunch. The group will meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. W. H. Grinnen.

WAMPUM NOTES

Mrs. L. E. Yoho and Mrs. Robert Grinnen were recent New Castle visitors.

L. E. Yoho was a Pittsburgh visitor Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perdue of New Castle were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Yoho.

Dick Barnhart and Tom Patterson of Ellwood City visited with Jerry King on Saturday.

Town Finance Company Opens Offices In City

The Town Finance company today opened its New Castle office at 111 East Washington street with the announcement that Charles A. Hirsch has been appointed manager. He comes to New Castle from Town Finance's Erie office and has a background of some ten years spent in the small loan business.

Mr. Hirsch, in discussing the field of personal loans, said, "The small loan business holds a definite place in America's financial picture. Most individuals and families need financial assistance at one time or another. In fact the association's figures show that one family in seven has to borrow some money every year."

"The average person does not own stocks, bonds, real estate or similar collateral. However, he can in most cases, meet the simplified credit requirements of Town Finance company. The need of such service as this is recognized by various state governments who, in the interest of the borrower, have established maximum interest rates and provide for the supervision and examination of the licensed companies."

In addition to the New Castle unit, Town Finance operates in Erie, Reading, Harrisburg, York, Lancaster and Allentown. Affiliated companies operate 11 offices in New Jersey, two in Maryland and 10 in New York.

In order to reach the nearest part of Canada from Detroit, Michigan, a person must travel almost due south. A bend in the Detroit River accounts for this strange fact.

APOLOGIES FOR SOCIAL ERRORS

Many think that the words "I'm sorry" give them license to commit almost any social error. As they rudely brush past you on the street, they hurriedly utter that apology or possible "pardon me". When they commit some unpardonable breach of etiquette at the table, they think that little phrase will make everyone forget their bad manners.

Consideration for others and respect for ourselves is the basis upon which decent society is built. Those who are well-bred will never, even with an apology on their lips, do anything that might offend others or cause them inconvenience.

Self-restraint is one of the first lessons we must learn if we expect to associate with others. Instead of having a lot of apologetic phrases ready to spring, concentrate on guarding against unpardonable breaches of etiquette—for instance: Taking more than your share—whether of the road while driving or of the room in a public vehicle or of the food while at the table. Reaching for something at the table, instead of asking to have it passed. Violating any of the rules of correct eating, such as "pardon me but I'm the old-fashioned type" as you pick up a bone to gnaw. This is your privilege only when you are in your own home, eating alone. Then you will disgust no one.

Question: Should a woman doctor use her title both professionally and socially?

Answer: Professionally, she is "Dr. Robinson", but socially she is "Mrs. Robinson".

Locally Known Couple Married For 65 Years

Leafing through the family album, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Unangst, residents of Franklin avenue, Cochran, Pa., and widely known in this locality, recall their wedding day, 65 years ago, which they will celebrate on October 23.

The occasion is being planned by their immediate family and will take place in the Cochran I. O. O. F. hall on this date, with "open house." Hours will be from 3 to 5 in the afternoon with a three-course dinner for the immediate family preceding at noon.

The bride of 65 years ago, Etta Wilson, daughter of the late James R. and Mary Fox Wilson of Jackson township, Mercer county, is now 85 years of age. Her bridegroom, who is 89, is the son of the late Isaac and Elizabeth Smith Unangst, Hubbard, O.

After the wedding ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, the couple went to housekeeping in their newly-built home. It was located in Deercreek township, Mercer county.

Here, they made farming their livelihood and raised their family. Their children include the following: Jay W. Unangst, 412 Madison avenue, Mrs. Ralph White, 119 Glenmore boulevard and Harold Unangst 617 Madison avenue, all of New Castle, and Mrs. William Hart of Cochran, Pa. Another daughter, Mary, nine years old, died in 1900.

In 1932 Mr. and Mrs. Unangst moved to Cochran, where they now reside. They are highly respected residents of their community and are widely known throughout western Pennsylvania and many Ohio cities. Both are active and take interest in the many festivities of the Cochran grange, where they are life members. They are also members of the Methodist church there, of which Rev. Donald Struchen is pastor. He, with his wife, will be special guest at the celebration on Sunday, October 23, the former will also preside as speaker.

Among the guests of the couple who witnessed the single ring ceremony 65 years ago planning to attend will be Mrs. Charles Michael, Warren, Pa., and Charles Wilson of Franklin, sister and brother of Mrs. Unangst; Mrs. Robert Meister of Cedar Rapids, Ia., Mrs. Will Gibson of Warren, Pa., and Mrs. Carl Walker, Akron, O., his sisters and brothers.

Grandchildren of the prominent couple who will participate include Mrs. James R. Beam of Castle Hills Manor, Phillard Unangst of Laurel avenue, Marian and Jack Unangst of Madison avenue, this city, and William Hart Jr., Cochran, Pa. Two grandchildren are deceased, Helen and Ralph White Jr. Great-grandchildren include Beverly and Barbara White of Pearson street, Ralph and Brenda Jo Beam of Castle Hills Manor and Billy and Rebecca Unangst of Laurel avenue, New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Unangst held receptions on their golden wedding and sixtieth anniversaries which attracted many friends and relatives from surrounding cities. This occasion will be no exception, as already indications point to an unusually large gathering with a marked representation going from here.

AUTO FIRE

When the owner of a nice new coach returned to his car, which had been parked near St. Mary's church on West North street Saturday afternoon, he no doubt was surprised at what had happened in his absence. Sparks from a pipe or a lighted cigarette set fire to the upholstery of the front seat, causing damage of around $25. Firemen were summoned to the scene by an alarm from Box 16 and quickly extinguished the blaze.

Baby Is Born In Plane Over Ocean

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(INS)—A premature baby was born over the Atlantic today.

The birth of the four-pound son to Mrs. Darinks Parker of New York City was believed to be the first in mid-air over the "big pond."

The 20-year-old Bavarian-born mother was enroute to join her soldier-husband in Weisbaden when she gave birth some 400 miles off Shannon.

Dr. Fred Henschel, a passenger on the American overseas airliner, delivered the baby. He was assisted by Stewardess Mary Jane Hinkley, who also is a registered nurse.

Both mother and baby were reported "doing well."

Mrs. Parker was taken to an emergency hospital on arrival at Shannon and will be taken to a local hospital later in the day.

Niles, O., Pilot Killed In Crash

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 17.—Roland McGowan, 35, of Niles, O., met his death Sunday, when his plane was thrown out of control and crashed near Austintown airport, near Youngstown, O.

The GI pilot tangled wings with another plan piloted by Jack Brewer of Bolindale, while both were approaching the field to make landings at the airport. Neither apparently saw the other's plane.

Airport operators stated that the planes' wing tips brushed, and McGowan's plane was thrown into a spin. The plane crashed outside of the airport.

Twenty-one newspapers were published in Idaho Territory before 1884, but only one of the original 21 still is published today.

'Boiler Kid' Loses Battle With Polio

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Gilbert Holden, 20-year-old Coraopolis "boiler kid" who wanted to be a minister, today lost his fight to polio.

He died at Pittsburgh Children's Hospital in the iron lung which had been home for the last seven years. He called it "the green submarine".

About a year after the Holdens moved to Florida, Gilbert was stricken with the disease which forced him to give up his first desire to be a pilot. The family returned to Pittsburgh in 1942 and at Children's Hospital Gilbert became known as the "Boiler Kid". During the 1946 power strike in Pittsburgh, hospital officials used an auxiliary hand pump to supply power for his iron lung in a seven-minute power failure. The lung had machine muscles which enabled him to breathe 16 times a minute.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB
(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

VENICE, Oct. 17.—(INS)—My life has been marked by various and sundry ambitions. But this is the first time I have ever wanted to be a pigeon.

At the moment I can envision no fate so satisfactory as to be a pigeon and live forever in St. Mark's square in Venice. These lucky birds toll not, neither do they spin, and they live in a square of such beauty that men have swooned at sight of it.

Tourist Attractions
These pigeons, together with the city's gondoliers, are Venice's two prime tourist attractions, outranking even the Byzantine bulk of St. Mark's cathedral and the grandeur of the Dog's palace (which a generation of G.I.'s called "The Dog House" to the despair of Venetians).

People come from every corner of the globe to feed the pigeons of St. Mark's. These birds have incredible capacity, eating from dawn till dark of the yellow corn for sale in paper cornucopias to tourists like myself.

The city fathers, knowing a good tourist attraction when they see one, also feed the pigeons twice daily, at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m., when a bell tolls to signify that soup's on.

Five minutes before both these hours, clouds of pigeons gather over the square. Pigeons from all parts of the city come to partake of the municipal bounty. But the minute this is done, the old guard pigeons who have lived in St. Mark's Square for generations chase the squatter pigeons away with fierce attacks. Not for these upstarts the bounteous corn scattered by tourists!

named Antonio, descendant of one of St. Mark's oldest families, told me today over a bowl of cracked corn that, despite the looks of thinks, the pigeons of St. Mark's lead a strenuous life.

"All this corn and no meat!" said Antonio crossly as he looked at the thousands of tourists in the square, all scattering corn and all cooing to the pigeons.

"An no bicarbonate of soda, either," Antonio complained. "Naturally, the city expects us to eat all the corn these tourists scatter. And I can tell you that at the least of the tourist season, we have to eat our heads off and this is no easy matter."

Antonio said that a good many of St. Mark's pigeons develop gout at an early age, liver complaint is common and duodenal ulcers are not unknown.

Then there is the eternal fight to keep other pigeons from muscling in on the racket at St. Mark's square.

The pigeons must even roost on St. Mark's and the Dog's palace at night, he said to protect their territory from pigeons looking for lebensraum.

Daily Battles
These daily battles, shortly after 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. to drive out the D.P.s. (displaced pigeons), take a lot out of St. Mark's pigeons, Antonio continued.

"We spend our life fighting and eating," he said sadly. "And what for? Ulcers!"

It is Antonio's advice to me not to try to be a pigeon.

"People say we never had it so good," the old pigeon said. "We get a free roost on St. Mark's or the Dog's palace and all the corn we can eat."

"Corn! Faw! Antonio cried. "We eat and eat because it is our civic duty. But let me tell you, there isn't a one of us who doesn't wish he never had to look at another d—kernal of corn!"

"And," muttered Antonio as he flew away, "what I wouldn't like to do to 99 out of every 100 tourists, if only I dared and my civic duty permitted!"

State American Legion To Commend Judge Medina

HARRISBURG, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Pennsylvania American Legion headquarters announced the 1950 state convention will be held at Philadelphia in August and discussed Federal Judge Garold R. Medina will be cited for his conduct of the Communist trials at New York.

The exact convention dates will be chosen later.

State Commander Walter E. Alessandrini, of Philadelphia, reported the 41-member executive committee authorized presentation of the legion's distinguished certificate to Judge Medina who presided during the nine-months-long trial of the 11 top Communist leaders who were found guilty by a jury.

Alessandrini, who said the certificate will be presented later, declared the trial "confirms the stand of the American Legion that the Communist party is not a political party but a revolutionary conspiracy directed and financed from Moscow."

Medina was cited for his "courage, patience and restraint" and the resolution said the award was "evidence of our respect for his legal genius and to help assure him an immortal place in the annals of American jurisprudence."

In radio's earlier days, the more controls a receiving set had the more efficient it was thought to be.

Lawrence County Overseas War Brides Guests Of V.F.W. Auxiliary At Tea

On a recent afternoon Ladies Auxiliary of V. F. W., Harry L. McBride Post 522, entertained at an afternoon tea in the Post home on Grant street in honor of the Lawrence County overseas war brides.

Mrs. Charles Jameson was chair-lady for the event, her committee being composed of Mrs. Mamie Black, Mrs. Mary Haering, Mrs. Mary Nicholson, Mrs. Lillian Davis, Mrs. Beatrice McNichols, and Mrs. Georgiana Walsh. The tables were beautifully decorated with fall flowers and tall white tapers. Guests were seated at four long tables, 35 war brides being in attendance. Mrs. Jameson gave the invocation.

Post President Mrs. Evelyn Woods provided the entertainment program with a most interesting talk entitled "This Country of Ours." She spoke of the privileges and opportunities we in this great nation enjoy and expressed the hope that the war brides would feel at home in our country. Mrs. Beatrice McNichols, president, pleased the group with the vocal solo "Danny Boy."

The auxiliary plans to hold other similar events for the war brides.

Penna. District No. 1 Has 24th Annual Event; Meet Next Year In Meadville

At the Y. W. C. A., members of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, District No. 1 of Pennsylvania, gathered on Saturday for their twenty-fourth annual convention, as guests of New Castle Tent No. 20.

First session was at 10 a. m., with Mrs. Pearl Cook, district president in charge.

Mrs. Rebecca McKissick, local president, extended greetings to the convention, which was responded to by department president of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Sara Commers, of Johnstown. Miss Dorothy Stewart, Y. W. C. A. secretary, gave welcome for the Y. W. C. A. and spoke of the Community Chest fund, followed by remarks by past department president, Mrs. Molly Bickel, of Oil City.

Brings Greetings

Department officers were each presented with a corsage. Mrs. Florence Hoover of this city, junior vice-president, brought greetings from Penna. Department of Women's Relief Corps. Reports were received from each tent. Reception committee was Mrs. Eva Sherry, Mrs. Georgeanna Walsh, and Mrs. Martha Fox.

At 12:30, the group met in the green room where they enjoyed a splendid dinner of creamed chicken and biscuit, and all the trimmings. Rev. Owen Shields of Croton Methodist church, gave the invocation. All joined in greeting department president, Mrs. Commers with a song, which she graciously acknowledged.

Mrs. Pearl Cook was in charge of the program. There was a period of pep singing of familiar songs, accompanied by Mrs. Ester

Pritchard, who composed the words for the songs.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Women's Society of Christian Service of Croton Methodist church, who prepared and served the fine repast.

Business Session

The group reconvened about 2 o'clock for the annual business session, when Mrs. Marian Dykes of Meadville, was elected president of the first district. From New Castle Tent No. 20, Mrs. Pearl Cook was elected council member, and Mrs. Martha Fox was elected color bearer.

Mrs. Margaret Schwing of Johnstown, past department president, was installing officer, and Mrs. Sara Commers, department president, was installing guide. Department officers made short addresses and the main address of the afternoon by Mrs. Commers.

Sharon Tent received the cash award for the largest out of town representation, from nine cities. Next convention will be on the third Saturday of October, 1950, with Meadville Tent No. 43 as hostess.

Police said the slain woman, Mrs. Floyd Greer, was shot six times as Cheney opened fire on her, her husband and her baby when he became enraged because the 11-month-old child began crying.

The Greers rented an apartment in the same house in which Cheney resided.

A 10 YEAR RECORD OF PROGRESS WONDER BREAD IMPROVED 33%

In the Milk Protein Factor To Help Children Grow Bigger and Stronger 8 Ways

"PROTEIN—THE KEY TO LIFE AND GROWTH"

THE FATE OF THESE 4 CELLS IS OFTEN THE FATE OF THE ENTIRE HUMAN BODY!

BRAIN CELL AND BRAIN One of the 6 types of cells in cerebral cortex of the human brain... which contains a total of some 15 billion cells. A principal factor in cell life and development is protein. Thus, in life, nothing is more important than the quality of the food we eat.	BONE CELL AND BONE The skeleton has 222 bones. Each is made up of cells... some living, some petrified cells. Human bone can carry 30 times as much weight as brick; 8 times more than granite! Shin bone is strongest—it can support a load of 3600 pounds!
MUSCLE CELL AND MUSCLE 639 separate muscles contain some 6,000,000,000 muscle cells—not half the number of the "thinking" brain. Each muscle cell has some 400 fibrils. Each fibril bundle can "lift" 1/1,000,000th ounce; a muscle one-third inch thick from 58 to 140 pounds. Tongue muscles are fastest—25 movements per second!	HEART CELL AND HEART The human heartbeat cycle lasts about .8 second. 100,000 beats a day pump 10,567 quarts of blood! The heart rests between beats—a total time of 12 hours a day—about 35 years in a lifetime. The heart develops about 1/240 horsepower. Yet outwards by years the most perfect auto!

Serve Wonder Bread To Help Your Child Grow Bigger and Stronger 8 Ways

Note How Amazing Wonder Bread Compares With Meat, Milk, and Fish In Certain Growth And Energy-Building Contents (as stated in chart)

Without protein no child can grow in body or brain. Growing children need TWICE the protein per pound of body weight as grownups.

These foods are good for protein: Meat, Milk, Fish, Eggs, Nuts. And Wonder Bread.

Penny for penny, Wonder Bread gives your child 46% more body-building protein than the average of meat, milk, fish and eggs.

Good for Energy

Without energy no child can work, study or play. Wonder Bread is a substantial energy food.

Then, too, Wonder Bread is more quickly converted into energy than fat. And, of course, is better in protein for child growth.

Helps Build Strong Bodies 8 Ways

The chart shows the 8 body and brain-building properties of Wonder Bread. Serve Wonder Bread with fruits, vegetables, meat, milk, fish and eggs in a well-balanced diet. Give your child every chance to build body and brain. 8 ounces of Wonder Bread for a growing child cost less than a dime a day. You can afford Wonder Bread for your child.

Doubly Fresh

Children love Wonder Bread. Plain or toasted. Because Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it; fresh when you eat it. Because slow-baked—13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

Get economical Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today—you'll be glad you did.

State Capitol

Taxes Will Be
Major Issue

Next Legislature To Have
Major Battle Over Taxes
Is Indication

OTHER NEWS OF
STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Taxes promise to be a major issue when the 1951 legislature convenes in 14 months. The Pennsylvania Petroleum association has trained its sights on the additional penny gasoline tax imposed by the General Assembly in 1949 while the Keystone Bottlers association will be out to eliminate the penny-a-bottle soft drink tax. In addition, the usual wrangle is assured over whether to restore the manufacturers' exemption to the five mill capital stock tax. Altogether, more than $100,000,000 is involved in the three issues. It is considered a question of time until Republicans and Democrats seize on the tax question as a preliminary to the important 1950 elections when voters will select, among other officials, a U. S. senator and a governor. The three levies probably will be the crux of the tax argument when the legislature convenes. All other taxes are expected to be re-enacted including the four-cents-a-pack cigarette tax.

State senate minority leader John H. Dent of Westmoreland is telling colleagues he has "come to the end of the political road." He intimates he may quit politics and devote his time to private business. "That is how I feel now, but who knows?" Dent says, "I may change my mind again when election time comes around." Dent, a member of the senate since 1936, explains that state government is "beginning to be a full time job with not even part-time pay." When Dent entered the senate 13 years ago he was eligible for a $3,000 biennial plus $150 for stamps. He receives the same amount now and along with 257 other lawmakers receives $100 a month "expenses".

The name of Richard K. Mellon, Pittsburgh industrialist and financier, has been mentioned at the state capitol as a possible Republican gubernatorial candidate next year. Western Pennsylvania Republicans started the speculation. It is believed that Mellon, one-time director of Pennsylvania's selective service system, has no interest in getting into the race because of the time he must devote to his far flung business empire. A national news magazine's recent article on Mellon is believed to have prompted some Republicans to mention his name.

The main entrance to the state capitol grounds has taken on the college look in connection with Pennsylvania Week opening October 17. A huge banner has been stretched between two poles flanking the main walk. Gold letters on a blue background proclaim the observance and advise "It's your Pennsylvania, keep it growing".

A private firm engaged by the Pennsylvania Turnpike commission has estimated that more than 6,000 vehicles will use the eastern extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike when completed. The 100-mile extension from Middlesex, near Carlisle, to King of Prussia in the metropolitan Philadelphia area, is expected to be opened late next year. The private firm's estimate was reduced 60 per cent to provide a conservative figure. On the basis of the firm's estimate, it can be expected that average daily traffic will embrace 1,340 Pennsylvania passenger cars, 165 foreign cars, 1,340 heavy trucks, 123 medium trucks, 52 light trucks and 27 buses.

GARDEN NOTES

Hardy deciduous shrubs can still be planted if the ground can be worked without too much trouble.

So long as the ground is open you can keep on conditioning the soil—turning it over and working in manure and compost.

Sow seed of sweet peas in well-prepared trenches; wait until just before the ground freezes so that the seeds do not have a chance to germinate until spring.

Brussels sprouts are particularly hardy and can be kept outdoors until Christmas or even later. The flavor improves after the plants have undergone frosts.

House plants require fresh air as an essential to their good health. Whenever the weather is mild enough to do so without chilling, let in lots of fresh air.

Two special programs Sunday on the Westminster college campus brought to an end one of the most active "Autumn Week-ends" in the college's history.

The three day program which had included the inauguration of Dr. Will W. Orr as college president, the crowning of the Autumn queen, and annual homecoming activities, was climaxed Sunday night with an evening chapel service with Dr. W. Bruce Wilson, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, as guest speaker.

Earlier in the afternoon Professor James W. Evans had presented the college choir in a sacred concert program. Dr. Wilson's sermon was on the subject "God's Kingdom First."

Tifereth Sisterhood Has Succoth Party

Rabbi Jules Lipschutz Is Guest Speaker At Tifereth Sisterhood Meeting

Approximately 80 members of the Tifereth Israel Sisterhood attended the regular monthly meeting held at the Tifereth Israel synagogue. The event was a combination business meeting and Succoth party.

Meeting was opened with Mrs. M. Slavovskiy, pianist, accompanying the assembly as they sang "America." A Succoth prayer was offered by Mrs. Gus Slavovskiy. Mrs. Abie Cohen, president, called on officers and chairmen for reports of activities for the past month. Mrs. S. Wolf, chairman of the Simchas Torah "Kreplech" dinner to be held October 23, announced that Mrs. J. Cobb was reservations chairman.

Mrs. Gus Slavovskiy, religious chairman, announced plans for the Simchas Torah party to be held at the synagogue Saturday, October 15, at 5:30 p. m. for all the children of the congregation. There will be a Torah procession at the synagogue at 7 o'clock.

At the conclusion of the business meeting Mrs. Jules Lipschutz, program chairman, presented her husband, Rabbi Jules Lipschutz, who explained in detail the Succa, which is a small hut with cornstalks for a roof which was used as an altar during the 40 years of wandering of Moses and the children of Israel.

A Succa was erected in the dining room of the synagogue and decorated with fruits and crops in observance of the Feast of Tabernacles. Rabbi Lipschutz gave a detailed explanation of the symbols Lulav and Ethrog used during the holiday. The Ethrog is described in the book of Leviticus. A playlet was held with Mrs. Alec Samuels as narrator. Character parts were taken by Mrs. Reuben Sigler, mother; Mrs. Lipschutz and Mrs. Leonard Gordon, singers, and Mrs. M. Slavovskiy, accompanist.

The Succoth spirit was shown in the playlet which dealt with Thanksgiving for crops and fruits and is similar to the American Thanksgiving holiday enjoyed by the people throughout the nation.

Mrs. Lipschutz led the group in the singing of American and Palestinian songs.

Dining room tables were beautifully decorated with fall flowers for the occasion. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. A. Safier, Mrs. A. Cohen, Mrs. H. Waldman, Mrs. G. Abbot, Mr. P. Alpern and Mrs. L. Baron. Special guests were Miss Mary Carrigan and Mrs. Ray Fredricks.

Rabbi Joseph Shapiro will be guest speaker at the November meeting to be held at the synagogue.

This is PENNSYLVANIA Week

THIS is the week in which Pennsylvanians proclaim the greatness of their State—and find satisfaction in the part they have played, individually and collectively, in building its greatness.

We of the telephone company find satisfaction in the contribution we have been able to make to the greatness of the Commonwealth—in providing telephone service that links together cities, towns and countryside—in the employment of thousands of men and women—in the purchases we make from Pennsylvania business and industry—and in the part our people play in the civic and cultural activities of their own communities.

We cherish the opportunities Pennsylvania has given us to serve its people. We welcome the responsibility of expanding the telephone system to meet the expanding needs of the growing State.

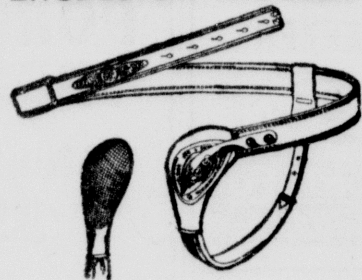

Let PENNSYLVANIA WEEK be a reminder to each of us that the welfare of the Commonwealth is the welfare of its industries and of its citizens.

Mangino, Mancine Hurt; To Miss Har-Brack Tilt

New Castle Senior High football team begins training today for its most important game of the year. Friday night undefeated and untied Har-Brack moves into Taggart stadium for a very important encounter and a capacity crowd of 15,000 is expected.

Both squads have six wins to date and the winner will be favored to take a top run position in the run for the WPIAL title game at Pitt stadium.

The Red Hurricane will go into the game against a slightly favored Har-Brack squad minus the services of two first team stars. Tackle Tom "Bear" Mangino and center Charles Mancine were both so seriously injured in the Farrell game that they will be out of action for the rest of the season, according to trainer Bill Klee.

Less In Casts
Both boys suffered torn ligaments in their left knees in the Night Rider encounter and have had their legs placed in casts. The "Bear" played one of the best games of his career Friday night and it was his important defensive work that was very instrumental in keeping Farrell back in its own territory. The big, 210-pound senior made tackle after tackle and when the Hurricane went on the offense, Mr. Mangino was leading the way to open those holes in the Farrell line. Bear also served as captain in several games and his services in this capacity will be missed very much by the boys.

Chuck Mancine, a wiry center with great ability to pass the ball and a determination to make most of the tackles backing up the line on defense, will also be gravely missed by the Red and Black.

Good Replacements
Coach Bridenbaugh has been very fortunate to have exceptionally good line replacements all season but it is doubtful if any two boys on the team can step in and fill the important roles played by these experienced gridgers this season.

Dante DeFalco, subbed for Mangino Friday night and emerged the hero of the game. This boy is big, strong and determined but does not have the experience nor is he as large as the Bear. Bob King is another big tackle who has fine prospects, especially on the defense.

Mitchell Charles will get the first string snapper back post. Charles has had a lot of game experience this year, especially on defense, and will probably get lots of extra training this week so that he will be ready for the Har-Brack invasion. Charles is a big boy and is very alert defensively.

The rest of the squad came out of the bruising encounter with Farrell just a little shaken up but otherwise ready to take on the highly regarded Har-Brack eleven.

Press facilities in Michigan State's new Macklin Field stadium include four completely equipped photographic darkrooms and accommodations for ten wire photo transmitters.

OAKLAND, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Jackie Jensen, the newest member of the New York Yankees, and his pretty 18-year-old bride, diving queen Zoe Ann Olsen, were honeymooning today.

The wedding in Oakland's Presbyterian church yesterday climaxed a story book romance for the two young sports figures.

Jensen, all-American football star at the University of California last year and left fielder with the Oakland Oaks this year, met the pretty diving star when he was a life guard at the pool where she practiced line dives that brought her top honors in virtually every competition she entered.

Scoreless Ties In Sandlot Loop

Close To 1,000 Fans See Stalemates Sunday Afternoon At Washington Field

New Castle sandlot football league finished the first round of play Sunday afternoon at Washington field with close to 1,000 fans on hand to see the battles. Each team has played the other at least once on the six-game schedule and three of the six contests have ended in scoreless deadlocks.

In Sunday games, league leading Forest A. C. with a record of two wins and a tie, daedlocked S. S. Lions, who have won one and tied a pair. Third place Mustangs played a 0-0 tie with the Shamrocks, who have yet to win a game.

Close League
The league has been so close the last three Sundays that only 37 points have been scored in six games. Both the Mustangs and the Shamrocks have failed to score a point.

In the first game Sunday, the undermanned Shamrocks used only one sub in staving off the Mustangs.

In the feature game, long punts, good passing and tricky line plays interested the fans but failed to develop any scores as Forest A. C. and S. S. Lions deadlocked. Each team threatened seriously once Forest advanced to the four-yard line and the Lions were on the Forest 10 at one stage of the bitter contest.

Sunday Schedule
Next Sunday the Shamrocks will meet the Forest A. C. in the first game and Mustangs tangle with South Side Lions in the second.

California Bears-Minnesota Appear As Rose Bowl Rivals

By KEN OPSTEIN (International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—The post-war football rehabilitation program at the University of Minnesota apparently has been a success—for coach Bernie Bierman and his Golden Gophers are the sole possessors of first place in the Big Ten today.

The mammoth Minnesotans crushed Ohio State, 27 to 0, Saturday and now envision their first undefeated season since 1941. Northwestern's 21 to 20 victory over Michigan gave the Gophers more confidence for this week's game with Michigan than their own conquest of the Buckeyes did. Minnesota had no trouble with Northwestern a week ago and will go to Ann Arbor as the favorite to carry the "little brown jug" back to Minneapolis.

Minnesota Inspired
The maroon and gold line that held Ohio State to a net 48 yards not only brought joy to Minnesota fans but also to those on the west coast. Michigan and Northwestern are ineligible under Western Conference rules to return to the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Pacific Conference athletic executives feared that the Big Ten's third ranking team would be the winner of the trip to Pasadena. Second place Northwestern defeated California in the past game and it would be even more embarrassing if a third place Western Conference team were to beat the coast champions.

Minnesota hasn't yet won the honors in the Big Ten. Where weekly upsets are not unusual, The Gophers will be favored, however, in their remaining games against Michigan, Purdue, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Results of contests on the Pacific coast Saturday indicated that California again may be the west's Rose Bowl representative.

Joe Page of the New York Yankees is one of the classiest pitchers in baseball history. He's a stylist. He has little hinky-dinky motions on the mound that don't mean much but from the time he walks in from the bull pen you know you are looking at a major leaguer.

Two Gridgers Are Injured On Sunday

Two young sandlot football players received broken collar bones while playing football Sunday afternoon, and were taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment.

Dodgers Start Cleaning House

Dispose Of Four, Buy Three Young Rookies From Montreal Club For 1950 Team

By HOWARD SIGMANT (International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The accent was on youth today in the latest dealings of the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Dodgers, who have been concluding transactions at a fire-sale pace, sold outfielders Marv Rackley and Dick Whitman, to make additional room for some younger Minor League talent.

Rackley went to the Cincinnati Reds and Whitman to the Philadelphia Phillies, both for an undisclosed sum.

This made it four Brooks who have left the organization within the past two days. President Branch Rickey dealt pitcher Paul Minner and first baseman Preston Ward to the Chicago Cubs Thursday.

Buy Three Rookies
Rickey began filling the gap by buying the contracts of three promising youngsters from Brooklyn's farm team in the International League.

Second basemen Everett "Rocky" Bridges, first baseman Dee Fondy and catcher Steve Ligbo, were bought by the parent club.

At the same time, the world champion Yankees joined their National League adversaries in the youth movement by adding one player to their 1950 roster and dropping two others.

Pitcher Paul Hinrichs was purchased from the Bombers' Kansas City farm team in the American Association. Pitcher Ralph Buxton was sent to the Blues as part of the deal and Hugh Casey was made a free agent.

Jack Bergman, McKeesport sophomore end on the Lehigh university football squad, played in the Orange Bowl Christmas Day high school classic in 1947.

Titans and Allegheny Battle to 0-0 Deadlock

An underdog Westminster eleven battled the Allegheny 'Gators to a 0-0 tie Saturday before 3,000 homecoming fans at New Wilmington.

The Titans played deep in 'Gator territory during the final ten minutes of the game. A desperate pass interception by Richard Scibetta saved the day for the Gators at one point. A few plays later the Titans set up a field goal try from the Allegheny 20 yard stripe but failed to score.

Fumble Hurts
Early in the first quarter the Titan squad moved deep into 'Gator territory when Dick Wharton took the ball on his own 30 yard stripe and dashed 55 yards to the Allegheny 15. On the next play Westminster fumbled and Center George Yarbent recovered for the Gators.

Allegheny's only real threat came in the last three seconds of play when Halfback Norman Baker stood on his own 20 and passed to End William Jack who ran to the Westminster 19 yard line before being downed. That was the end of the game.

Moral Victory
For the Titans the tie contest was a moral victory. The 'Gators, undefeated in three starts this year, had won six straight before invading Titan territory.

The game pitted the passing power of Allegheny against the running attack of Westminster. The Titans picked up 187 yards rushing. The 'Gators made 87 yards rushing and completed five out of 13 passes for 169 yards. Westminster completed only one pass for 14 yards.

Good Hitter
With Harrisburg in 1946, the hard-hitting left-handed batter topped the Class B Interstate League with an average of .337; in 1947 he won in the same league with a mark of .357 and in 1948, with Dayton, he topped the Class A Central League with .354.

Willie DeLeonardo, Ellwood City, while on business here, took time out to discuss Pointers and Beagles with Tuts McDermott, Neshannock avenue. Sports Afield carries a note as to how one can extricate himself from quick sand. The note says: "Fall flat on your stomach, pull your body forward with elbows and hands but do not make any sudden movement. A sudden movement causes one to go deeper into the quick sand". . . . Steelers Win, Tie For Lead

(By International News Service)

The Pittsburgh Steelers could thank Johnny Lujack's passing wizardry today for gaining them a share of the National Football league's eastern division lead.

Lujack, who draws his pay from the Chicago Bears and not the Steelers, was large responsible for the Bears' 38 to 21 overhauling of the defending champion Philadelphia Eagles yesterday.

Notre Dame Johnny passed for two touchdowns, set up a third scored once himself and booted five extra points. A crowd of 50,129 saw the upset, which was Philadelphia's first loss in 12 games.

Steelers Win

Meanwhile, Pittsburgh came from behind to nip the New York Giants, 21 to 17, and tie the Eagles with three wins and one loss apiece.

The Bears didn't gain in the western division because Los Angeles, now the only unbeaten team in the league, drubbed Detroit, 21 to 10, after spotting the Lions ten points.

In other National league games, the Chicago Cardinals defeated Green Bay, 39 to 17, and the Washington Redskins spanked the hapless New York Bulldogs, 38 to 14. Sammy Baugh threw four touchdowns passes for the 'Skins.

San Francisco's 49ers scored their sixth All-American Conference victory and avenged their only loss by walloping Buffalo, 51 to 7.

The Brooklyn-New York Yankees turned a pass interception in the last six minutes into a 24-21 decision over Baltimore.

CHICAGO CARDINALS DEFEAT PACKERS

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 17.—(INS)—The Chicago Cardinals were back on the winning trail today by virtue of their 39 to 17 conquest of the Green Bay Packers yesterday in Milwaukee.

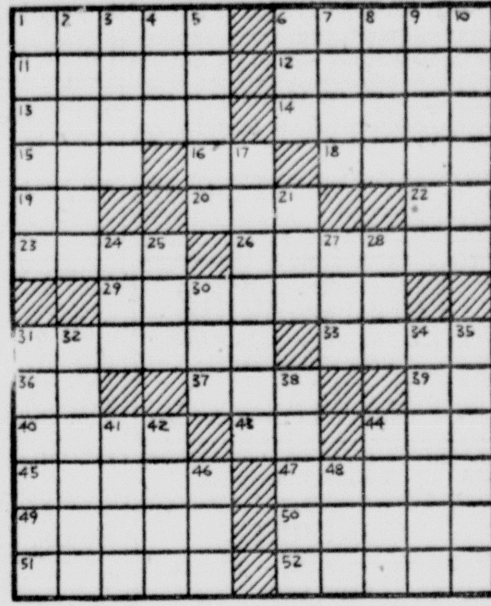

The victory assured the Cardinals of third place in the western division of the National Football league.

All 11 Michigan State first string football players this season have been back on the winning trail today from the state of Michigan, as did 46 of the 64 men on the original squad.

Dick Gabriel, Valley Stream, N. Y., left halfback on the Lehigh university football squad, ranked twelfth in the nation last year in yards gained rushing. He piled up 833 yards on 112 carries.

FOOTBALL GAME

ENDS IN RIOT

LATROBE, Pa., Oct. 17.—(INS)—Police intervention yesterday halted a riot and a football game in Latrobe.

The score of the game: Latrobe Zimbo 19, McKeesport, Pa., Christy Park 0, but it wasn't final. A referee's decision, which was disputed by a Christy Park official, preceded the fighting. About 2,000 spectators were involved along with players on both teams at the Latrobe athletic field. It was Christy Park's first defeat.

UNION HIGH GRID PLAYER INJURED

Kenneth McPheeters, aged 17 years, of R. D. 8, King avenue, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment Saturday evening in the Union High Shenango game. Examination at the hospital revealed a fracture of the little toe of the left foot, and a contusion of the chest.
